SEERSGATE SAYS:

The servant was given a major detail previously: to go to another church building to serve as a detail the King could use in His service. Praise be to the Great King for His grace and mercy! It was the first Sunday I attended; there was no way to visit this church building before. In all things, it is difficult to attend a new church, even for just visits. That's how I viewed going to this church way, for it wasn't Yahweh's plan to make it a house to stay under, in joining details.

At this church, the culture was different in terms of presentation. There were not many people in a certain dress above the casual look, and it did not bother me. The servant has learned what is most important: to bring no attention to your looks that takes away from Yahweh being first.

My dress in appearance was a business look, with beautiful red lipstick. I mention my lipstick on purpose, for many women are placed in lower categories of spiritual cleanness if they wear red lipstick. Power will not flow if you are covered from head to toe, with only your eyes showing. Power will flow when your body is used by the true Power Source, the Great Way.

When in this church building, the lady who moved in to serve as a greeter was pure in vision, where love flowed from her spirit. I was able to drink in her sincerity, and there was no ill will in her plan to present us to her church way. The person who greets has a great place in serving. Greeters should be seen as a "face" to their church gathering, where love should be the main way they reach thirsty people.

There is a major opportunity for a powerful transfer of God's power when ushers and greeters touch others with offering plates and booklets of church details. These people who serve the Great King in these positions are priceless to the Kingdom work and should consider their service the highest.

The battle rages on. The witches and others who move in the occult could be transferring demons into people. But the ushers who pray and seek Yahweh can truly walk in a level of great authority if they love and give out love in the Great King. Power comes into action through deep submission in Kingdom authority, for submission is the opposite of Satan's nature, which includes rebelling for selfish gain.

Back to this detail: I was in the worship part of the service, and God had a detail for me to drink that day. Some people raised their hands, and some did not, but worshipped in their spirits. But what the King willed to show me was not the look of what was taking place: That was deceptive, looking for outward appearance, gauging a person's way of worship; for true worship is in spirit and truth.

How did Yahweh have the servant drink the true detail in this worship setting? He told me to look at the people. I looked in the spirit realm and saw a different view. With all the praise and worship, with all the tears and raised hands, with all the clapping and singing, there was deep bondage in this church gathering. The worship had a coating that made it appear to move in power: people looked as if they were being touched. There is no ill way in saying this detail, for surely, the servant could not see in the spirit realm without the help of the Great Holy Spirit engaging this detail for a greater purpose. I saw demons hovering over men. Women had chains. Addictions were moving on people, and worship was moving in complacency.

The service was a religious setting, having no fruit in a spiritual breaking of the darkness. A heavy burden was made evident. Demons moved through the church building with chains of great weight, holding the people in religious bondage. The chains were heavy. Human weight in church work would not be able to set this church free.

But the Great Way did not leave it this way, praise Him! God came and told me to speak a very specific prayer into the atmosphere to break what the devil had placed in their way. You have to know that prayers have major power when the person prays in agreement with the will of Jesus. Words pushed by Yahweh have the power to destroy or build up.

With this prayer, the angels came and began dissolving the chains that held the people in great bondage. I saw something amazing take place: The ceiling opened to allow a spiritual fire to flow into this place, bringing a way to shift what was moving in the building on a spiritual level. When I saw this, I was amazed at how much was taking place.

Yahweh told me the prayer spoken moved in the church building, giving the people a new way of worship. The breakthrough came when power from Heaven brought shifts into the church house. Demons were removed and were leaving in droves.

Power shall be seen in church buildings when Yahweh's people deal with spiritual details with true weapons, with clean hands, with pure ways, with the Great Way King Jesus.

Here is a very important part to note: If most churches fear dealing with demons or the spirit realm, how can any plan be given to teach these churches this way? People must have a way to see that the King's Heaven is not visible to the naked eye. That is truly why the Kingdom must be demonstrated with great power in the Great Way King Jesus. Listen to the prophets of the Lord and serve Him through obeying the Great Way in each detail.
